

Doubt

For six years, the Association of Flight Attendants (AFA) has been telling us that if we elect it, our lives will be more secure. If we look at all of their claims, we wonder if they can ever live up to all that they promise. We have questions that the AFA cannot answer.

How can the AFA promise that it will protect our jobs now, when the AFA carriers have furloughed flight attendants?

How can the AFA promise that it will deliver an industry leading contract, when the contractual raises at US Airways and United are not even keeping up with inflation?

Why does the AFA promise that we need a legally enforceable contract, when it cannot enforce contractual provisions in contracts that it has already negotiated?

Why isn't the AFA enforcing its "No Furlough clause" at US Airways? What is the use of a contract if the AFA will not bother enforce its "legally binding contract" in court?

The AFA promises that it will make our positions more secure. If this is true, why are thousands of AFA represented flight attendants out of work while no Delta flight attendant was involuntarily furloughed?

The AFA activists say that they are pro flight attendant and pro-company. If this is true, why are they always making personal attacks on our upper management?

The AFA says that Delta Flight Attendants need AFA protection, but if the AFA is losing money, doesn't it need us more than we need it? Didn't Pat Friend say this in a letter?

If the AFA really can protect its flight attendants, why are supervisors at US Airways taking wings and luggage from flight attendants as they go out on leave? Why won't the AFA stand up and protect the US Airways flight attendants.

The AFA promises us that it can bring us dignity and respect. If this is true, why are United flight attendants holding rallies and publicly stating that United does not respect them?

The AFA makes all of these promises. Why won't it just be honest and tell us the truth about what it can and cannot do?

We hear these promises from the AFA, but they sound hollow. We all are left with a feeling of doubt. WHY?

Don't Organize Unions Bring Trouble

We doubt that the AFA can deliver on all of its promises at Delta. The AFA cannot deliver on its promises where it already represents flight attendants. The AFA promises are not credible. All the AFA will bring us is trouble.
